National Research Week for the Higher Education Sector

Theme: Preparing for the Future
2-5 April 2019

The 2nd Edition of the National Research Week in the Higher Education Sector will be held from 2nd to 5th April 2019 (venue to be confirmed in early 2019). This is an opportunity for the higher education sector in Mauritius to showcase their research and to collaborate, network and share information and experience amongst researchers within the higher education sector.

If you are an academic staff, student or researcher from the higher education sector, you are invited to participate and submit your abstracts for oral presentation and/or poster presentation. Stakeholders from outside the higher education sector engaged in research are also invited to participate.

All abstracts will be blind reviewed and the corresponding author will be notified of acceptance at latest 28 February 2019.

Submission should be made online. Guidelines for submission of abstracts, oral presentation, and poster presentation are available on the website www.nationalresearchweek.tec.mu.

In case the abstract is accepted and it involves multiple authors, at least one author must undertake to attend and present at the National Research Week.
